Now, a few words about patriotism. It doesn’t matter where you’re from, how much money you make, or what color you are. I’m blue, by the way. Because patriotism is simply a love for one’s country and what Old Glory stands for. With liberty and biscuits for all.